

Task: Video analysis

Please refer to at least three situations from the video clip shown below and analyze them. To do this, use the open text fields explained in the demo tour (link) and proceed as follows:

1. Refer to the three situations that particularly struck you when you first watched the entire video regarding classroom leadership events. If there were fewer than three situations, you have the opportunity here again to look at the individual sequences and choose other situations.
2. Then, for each of the three (or more) situations, interpret the (re)actions of the teacher (and possibly the pupils) in this event, as far as possible based on categories. Focus on what you consider to be class leadership-related events that took place in the situation and make use of the auto-completion function. In addition, under point 7 you can also analyze global or cross-situational classroom management events that are relevant to the entire clip.
3. For each of the three (or more) situations, rate how appropriate the (re)action of the teacher seems to you in the respective context and justify your rating.
4. Finally, for each of the three (or more) situations, formulate meaningful action alternatives for the teacher and discuss to what extent these could be more appropriate than the action taken in the given context. If you do not consider an alternative course of action to be necessary, please justify your decision.
